Message

I am glad to learn that the Delhi Association of the Deaf, New Delhi is celebrating its 37th Annual Day on 27th June, 1987 and publishing a souvenir on the occasion. It is heartening to note that the celebration would include seminars on different aspects of deafness, education, training, rehabilitation and inauguration of a building project to house educational and training facilities for the deaf. Voluntary organisations play a vital role in strengthening the efforts of the Government in providing various welfare measures to the handicapped, The efforts of the Association in this direction are significant and noteworthy.

I wish the Delhi Association of the Deaf all success in their endeavours.

(Rajendra Kumari Bajpai)

Shri Hari Krishna Shastri, M.P.
Chairman
Delhi Association of the Deaf

Cooperatives continue to make progress and the value of agricultural produce marketed in 1984-85 has exceeded Rs. 3 000 crores. Farmers receive a remunerative price for their produce and also obtain production inputs and consumer requirements at fair prices from cooperatives. To strengthen cooperatives at the village, facilities for storage of agricultural inputs and consumer goods are being created through NCDC's assistance.

The development of oilseeds is receiving the special attention of NCDC who have initiated projects with latest technology in various parts of the country. Cooperatives have over 13 lakh tonnes of oilseed processing capacity and NCDC have provided over Rs 120 crore for their development.

Cooperative sugar and spinning mills have a consistently high level of capacity utilisation and are an important segment of industrial production. NCDC are actively involved in their promotion and development.

For tribal and other weaker sections such as fishermen and handloom weavers, NCDC have special schemes with softer terms of financing. NCDC have invested over Rs. 50 crores in these areas. The emphasis is on integrated projects which link production with marketing and processing.

NCDC would continue to provide support to economic activities undertaken by cooperatives in the areas relating to agricultural inputs, marketing and processing of farm outputs and other related services. Since its inception, NCDC have invested over Rs. 870 crores in cooperatives.

This picture of Laxmi is from the Glaxo audio-visual "Let My Child See" on Xerophthalmia.

Glaxo in its contribution to disease prevention has especially devised audio-visual productions (slide-sound presentations) for public health education in urban slums and villages. The diseases covered are TB, Xerophthalmia (blinding malnutrition), home remedies for diarrhoeas and fevers, immunisation and nutrition.

The Ministry of Health and Family Welfare of the Government of India in its Statement on National Health Policy emphasizes that there will be only marginal results in health programmes "unless nation-wide strategies are launched to provide health information in easily understandable form, to motivate the development of an attitude for healthy living".

'Instrumental'

not just 'vocal'

Like a master artist's repertoire Bharat Petroleum's range of activities has only grown larger, bigger.

We have processed crude of 26 kinds. Today we make fuel for every use. From kerosene to domestic gas to petrol to aviation fuel.

Within a decade, we have grown twice as big, highly sophisticated and more organised.

Growth of a public sector represents growth of the people. Growth, in turn, of the nation. We have contributed a great deal to the nation's welfare by way of self sufficiency, raising productivity and enormous saving in foreign exchange.

In short, we have always proved our 'vocal performances' by being 'instrumental'.
